The Lord Mayor's Show is one of the greatest shows on Earth, and the oldest continually running annual parade in the world. Mark the event with lunch at the City's oldest extant Livery Hall.

Apothecaries' Hall is in a prime location on the show route. You can watch the show on Ludgate Hill or outside St Paul's, and get to the Hall without having to cross any barriers and then drop down to Victoria Street and watch it all over again – still no barriers! It is also very handy for Blackfriars Station, and an excellent place to drop off coats and umbrellas if the sun is shining.

The Hall will be open from 10.00 am. Tea and coffee available; we provide take-away cups so you can dash off to watch the Parade (or if you prefer to be environmentally-friendly, bring your own reusable take-away mug and fill up!) There will be a rolling buffet with wine available between 12.00 and 2.00 pm. Once you have booked, you can drop in at any point between those times, have your lunch, and go back to the show. This way, you won't have to worry about rushing off for lunch, just as the parade gets to where you are standing.

Children very welcome – this will be a most relaxed day, so feel free to bring friends and family.
